VICTOR NOW TALKS OF LIBEL SUITS

BUT GETS A SHARP LETTER IN RETURN

Rev. Mr. Southworth says His Relations With Mrs Nellie Jastrowitz Were Never More Than Platonic, and Produces a Statement From His Wife.

Rev. Victor E. Southworth, formerlyof All Souls' church in this city, and whose doings at Greeley, Colo., recently have provoked considerable comment, feels himself a much abused man. It is stated that after the publication of the report of his goings on he spent the entire morning pacing up and down the length of his little chamber at the New Markham hotel in Denver, weeping convulsively and frantically wringing his hands. He gave vent to the following narrative betweeh his choking sobs.

Makes a Statement.

"Of course I shall not return to Greeley. I expect to remain in Denver and get any employment I can—no matter how humble, just as long as it is honorable.

"I shall make speedy arrangements to have my family removed to Denver in the face of all that has occurred At present I feel a streng inclination to adopt a literary avocation, as I feel sure I would make a success of it. I have, so far as I can see do opportunity to speak in my own defense and have no hope at present of being able to pursue in the future the labors to which my life has been given Nothing has ever occurred betwee rs. Jastrowitz and myself to justify a breath of suspicion Through the willful misconstruction of my words and actions, these reports have been put in circulation. If they had concerned myself alone I would have nothing to say, but a woman whom I esteem as a true friend and know to be pure and honorable both in thought and conduct has fallen a victim to malicious gossip, and I groan under the injustice. No one has yet been found to specify any misconduct of a criminal nature between either of us.

"My wife has invited Mrs. Jastrowitz in this hour of her sorrow and bitter need to be a guest and receive the protection of our home. My heart even bleeds for Mrs. Hall, the aged mother of Nellie, who for months past has been sinking to her grave as a result of her daughter's conduct. The wronged woman herself is to be sympathized with. At present she is confined to her room at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Packard at 1145 Pearl street, and her friends are afraid she is on the eve of nervous prostration.

His Work Satisfactory.

"I went to Greeley from Janesville, Wis., where I have labored in the parish of All Souls church for three years. My special teachings as a minister have been along the line of sociclogical subjects. My work in Greeley was of such a character that the board of trustees sent a flattering communication to Mrs. Southworth when I returned East to dispose of our home and other property to remove my family permanently to Greeley."

The letter referred to is as follows:

Greeley, Colo., Feb. 4, 1898.

Mrs. V. E. Southworth, Janesville, Wisconsin:

Dear Sister—We thought you would like to know how we are getting along out here and how Mr. Southworth has succeeded as pastor of our society. He is by far the strongest man that has ever preached from our pulpit as pastor. Our audiences have continually grown until on two or three occasions it has been impossible to accommodate the people with even standing room, as the house has been packed as full as it could hold and many were turned away. We think he has done a great deal of good here.

We are not a very large society, nor a very wealthy one, but we believe that we shall have good success with raising his salary. He promised us last fall that you would come out and we were greatly disappointed that you could not reach here by Christmas. Cordially yours,

B. D. SANBORN,
ALBERT HOWARD
LUCY J. DRESSER,
FRED E. SMITH,
JAMES TUCKERMAN,
Trustees of Unity church.

About the Woman

"So far as the parents of Mrs. Jastrowitz are concerned," continued the pastor, "I fully realize that by their hasty misconstruction of the noblest possible thought and conduct between Nellie and myself they have brought upon themselves the most pregnant suffering, which I would liked to have spared them. It would have been better to have kept their suspicions quiet rather than to have blackened their dear daughter's immaculate reputation. In the presence of some of Greeley's most prominent citizens, Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Hall was asked if he actually believed that any improper doings had occurred between his daughter and myself, and he replied: "I cannot say whether they have done what is wrong or not."

"I have a copy with me of the letter I wrote to Nellie's parents when I was in Janesville, Wis., making preparations to remove my family to Greeley. It was instigated by the animosity of the Halls towards me and their determination to keep Nellie and I apart. Here it is:"

Writes to Friends.

Mr. Southworth showed this letter: "Janesville, Wis., Feb. 23, 1898.—Mr. and Mrs. Hall—Your letter to Mrs. Southworth, accusing her of sending over her own name and as her own, a letter written by me, is unworthy of you, and I am ashamed to think how eager you are to support people of being mean. If you will let your anger moderate for a little and stop to think quietly, you will see that all of this disturbance has grown out of your willingness to place the worst possible interpretation upon the motives of others. You are angry only because you suspect me of being a bad man, and now you are unwilling to be convinced that I am not a bad man. Your actions make me believe that you would prefer to think the worst of me rather than the best.

"Out of your anger and suspicion there cannot come any possible comfort for you. You will make yourselves miserable and you cannot do me any harm, because there is no possibility of proving that I am a bad man. You have simply as fair and manly a letter as ever was written, and the very tone of it is pure and wholesome. You may try to misconstrue its meaning. You may suspect the worst, but you cannot change the facts, and they are all in my favor.

"In your last you made the mistake of assuming that I am impure and that my purposes were selfish and sensual. In making such a hasty assumption you have done yourselves vastly more harm than you can ever do me. Now, for your own sake, just change your methods and see if this whole affair will not wear a far more favorable light for all concerned. Instead of assuming that the worst is true, why not assume that the best is true? You have nothing to gain by proving that I am a bad man; if it were possible to do it, which I deny, and what would you have to lose if you could satisfy yourselves that I am a true and pure man?

"We are good friends. We did treat each other with real kindness. You were interested in the work I was doing. Until that awful night when you were so angry you had never treated me in any but the frankest and fairest way. We had our whist together and were so happy in a hundred ways. And now, merely because to save you from any discomfort or any needless worry we told you of our perfect friendship for each other, and because you (out of fear for your daughter, no doubt) hastily assumed that such a perfect friendship could not exist between us two who do not desire to marry, all of this turmoil has grown.

"Would it not be better now for you to admit that you have been too quick to believe the worst of me, and to say, 'Until he is proven guilty we will call him innocent?' Do not do this for my sake, but to save yourselves from any more vexations and for the sake of Nellie, whom I doubt not you love as truly as parents can.

"If you do not persist in your anger at me—if you refuse to treat me as you did; if we are not openly friends in the church work and in social life, how are you going to explain matters? If any one asks, 'What is the matter with the Halls? Why do they not come to church?' I shall tell them to go to you and ask you, and what can you say?

"Now, I propose to you upon my return we all come together without a word of anger—without an unkind thought—and treat each other as we would if this misunderstanding had never occurred. You can watch me just as closely as you can, and if ever in word or act I do commit any wrong to you or yours then I am ready to be accused, condemned and punished. Just for your own comfort now and not for my sake I urge you to adopt this more sensible course. I do not want to be forced into a severe action against you. I do not desire to compel you to prove what you have said to Mrs. Southworth in your letters, but I warn you that if one additional provocation arises I will bring an action of libel and protect myself against your anger and suspicion.

"Altogether I believe that you can afford to make up you minds that the friendship between Nellie and me is a perfectly natural circumstance and inevitable friendship. Nothing that you can do or say can ever change it. We are what we are, and until our lives and characters are unlovely we shall love each other. Reconcile yourselves to that fact and withhold your condemnation until there is something to condemn. Above all, don't impute meanness of act or intention to a woman as far above it as is Mrs. Southworth. I think you owe her an apology for presuming to accuse her of sending you false letters.

"As I have continually said to my friends: 'The only way into trouble is the wrong way, and the only way out of trouble is the right way.' Now, remember if you are ready to meet me on the old terms, as friends, I am ready to meet you so. Always truly,

"VICTOR E. SOUTHWORTH."

A Rude Response.

"How humiliated and crushed was I when I received this rude note from Nellie's father," said Mr. Southworth, and with a dramatic gesture he produced this letter:

"In reply to your silly letter of the 23d I would like to call your attention to this fact that I am one of the worst men to bluff you ever struck. In regard to your suit for libel, if you will

State News in Brief

W. L. Tomlins has resigned as director of the Arion club, of Milwaukee, and will permanently sever his connection with the organization May 1. He has also retired from the leadership of the Apollo club, of Chicago.

The decision of the supreme court recently that electric roads must secure their right of way by actual easement from property owners, will delay for a short time the extension of the Milwaukee street railway system to West park, beyond the city limits.

A real estate deal closed last week will result in the erection of a 1,000,000-bushel grain elevator before fall. The property consists of three and a half acres on the lake front and was purchased by the C. Reiss Coal company for $15,000. It extends from the Chicago & Northwestern railroad tracks east to the lake and is 365 feet north and south.

The real estate and personal property of the Berlin and Montello Granite company were sold Friday by Receiver Beach. The claims against these properties allowed by the court amounts to about $130,000. It is valued at $250,000. Mr. Richter, of Springfield, Ill., representing a syndicate, was the purchaser. The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad company, whose claims had not been allowed, protested against the sale.

James E. Keelyn has begun an action at Eau Claire against the American Bell company for $25,000 damages. Mr. Keelyn is one of the officers of the Western Telephone Construction company, and has been establishing lines in Wisconsin and other states. He alleges that the Bell company caused circulars to be sent broadcast and articles printed in magazines and papers derogatory to the standing and intention of the Western Telephone Construction company.

GREAT STRIKE IS ON

Racine Labor Disputes the Most Important in the City's History.

Racine, April 4—[Special]—The differences between caspenters, painters, paper-hangers, plasterers and bosses has not been settled and it looks as if one of the largest strikes in the history of the city had only commenced.

Racine, Wis., April 4—All of the union paper hangers, painters, carpenters and plasterers in the city did not go to work Friday morning, and possibly 100 men are out. They say it is not a strike, but that they simply laid off a day or two for a conference with the contractors or bosses in regard to agreeing upon the number of hours' work per day and the wages to be paid. The men are unanimous for an eight hours' a day work. The carpenters want 25 cents an hour, the plasterers 35 cents, painters 30 cents and the paper hangers 31½. Conferences were held with the bosses, but no agreement was reached.

THE BATTLE OF LEXINGTON

In Will Be Celebrated in Janesville by the D. A. R., Apsil 19.

The celebration of the Battle of Lexington, by the Janesville Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution, is looked forward to with pleasure by all, who have in the past attended the entertainmentt given by this organization.

The public in general may not know that there are now living 298 "real daughters," and that from a membership of about a score of women in 1890 the National society now numbers 23,283, with chapters in many foreign countries.

The proposed entertainment will take place on the afternoon and evening of April 19, at the Armory. The afternoon program has been arranged for the pleasure of the older grades of the public schools and their parents. One of the most attractive features of the afternoon will be the awarding of the prize to the pupil from the eighth grade who has written the best essay on the "Life of Washington Previous to His Taking Charge of the American Army." There will also be fine music, and "Uncle Sam" and "Brother Jonathan" are expected to be present.

The evening will be full of enjoyment to the public. A series of living gictures; the dancing of the minuet; fine music and then dancing for all afterwards, are the special features of the program.

Watch the daily papers for further announcemente, and be ready to celebrate the anniversary of a day dear to the memory of every true American.

HUNDREDS OF SOULS SWEPT TO DEATH

TERRIBLE CALAMITY OCCURS AT SHAWNEETOWN, ILL.

Levees Give Way and the City is Inundated—At Least Five Hundred Persons Known to Have Perished—Entire Families Drowned—News Hard to Get

[Early reports of the flood at Shawneetown will be found on the third page of this issue.]

Carmi, Ill., April 4—[Special]—First reports of the awful flood with great loss of life at Shawneetown, Ill., are verified. A courier just in from the stricken city says no doubt more than two hundred lives were lost, probably many more. The city is almost completely wiped out and hardly one house left which is inhabitable. All communication is still cut off; but definite information as to the number of dead is expected this afternoon.

The levee broke about 5 p. m. and soon thereafter another break occurred The inhabitants were caught like rats in a trap, so swift was the rush of waters, and those who were not immediately carried away by the flood sought refuge on the housetops, some to be swept off and drowned, others floating away possibly to meet the same fate.

The scene following the first rush of water was indescribable. Women with children in their arms fought despairingly in the swiftly rising water, only to be swept out into the current and carried to death. Houses reeled down the path of the flood at lightning speed, colliding with other floating structures, crushing them into splinters and mangling the inmates.

To add to the horror several houses caught fire, igniting others in the mad race caused by the flood. Couriers say the back country is inundated, and that probably many farmers' families were drowned. Relief has been sent from this city, Mount Vernon, Evansville and other nearby points.

The latest information from Shawneetown is to the effect that four hundred, probably five hundred, lives are lost. Fifty corpses have already been found. No information by telephone or telegraph is obtainable from the scene of the disaster.

SIX PERSONS DROWNED

An Entire Family Wiped Out By the Capsizing of a Boat.

HE VICTIMIZED MERCHANTS

Fake Advertising Scheme That Enriched a Small Swindler.

It is not often that Janesville merchants are imposed upon by swindlers but seventeen of them are compelled to acknowledge themselves done for by a shrewd fellow who made the rounds some ten days ago. He announced that he was issuing a calendar for the benefit of the Catholic church and solicited business cards for display upon it charging whatever those he approached were willing to pay. The calendars were printed—a dozen of them—and with one of these the solicitor then made the rounds and collected his bills. Exactly how much he realized cannot be told, but it was considerably over a hundred dollars; a pretty good return for a weeks labor. The printer has not been paid for his work and Landlord Brewer, of the Park Hotel, has charged the fellow's board bill to the amount of profit and loss.

There is a large sized moral in the transaction. Business men who run to "fake" advertising schemes seldom profit by them, while those who patronize the newspapers laugh and grow plethoric of pocket.

PULPIT THEMES ON SUNDAY MORN

REV. MR. HALL SPEAKS OF GOD'S RESPONSIBILITY

Mr. Denison Finds Light Peering Out of the Darkness of Life—Mr. Pence Thinks All Men Are of Equal Importance in the Sight of God.

A goodly congregation listened to Rev. W. A. Hall at Court Street M. E church yesterday morning. He spoke upon the fidelity of God, saying in part: There is in the thought of faithfulness, the underlying idea of obligation. Faithfulness is real obligation fully met. Now God in his ward is declared with distinctness and in repitition to be faithful. Is God then under obligation to man? Yes. He most assuredly is. Mr. Hall spoke of ledger obligations. If we cast up the debit and credit side of our accounts to God he is not in our debt. We are eternal bankrupts to Him. But this being true God is still under obligations to us. What puts him under obligations? First, creation. Your parents, are under obligations to your children. You are responsible for their being, hence for their care. Without God man had never begun. The Creator is responsible for your being, he is therefore under obligation to you. Again, the ability of God to do for us puts him under obligations to do for us. God is able to do some things for us that He is not under obligations to do. What we can do for ourselves God cereainly is not under obligations to do for us. He has made us so that we can do these things. But there are some things we cannot do for ourselves, that need to be done, and which the Lord is not bound in honor to do. Let me illustrate: Here is a man dangerously sick. Without high medical skill he will surely die. In the next block lives a doctor who can certainly cure him. But the man does not believe in or want or send for this physician. He fails rapidly, dies. There is indignation, of course, inexpressed but real. Against whom? The doctor? No. He had no right to invade that man's house or the province of his right of choice. Man has great need of the Infinite. The infinite alone can do for man what man needs, but when and where man does not believe in or want or ask for God's help God has no right to do for him. But change the case. The man who is dangerously ill wants the physician, sends for him. The doctor shakes his head, says "no" and stays away The man fails, dies. Hearts are nearly broken, and now the whole community is strongly and rightly indignant against that doctor. Why? Isn't he his own boss? Did he not have a perfect right to stay away? No. His ability to do for that man, put him under obligations to go in and save him.

We are strong enough to set Cuba free Ought we not to do it? Surely, Cuba herself being willing. Very well, God is able to do for us. He is bound then in simple honor to do for us, whenever he can do so without invading the province of our inalienable right of choice. But still more clearly and indemiably, if possible, God is under obligations to us because of his promises to us. In the many pledges of His word the Lord has given this world a very large note. He has signed it by every miracle performed, by every prophecy fulfilled, and by the inherent character of the bible which stamps it superhuman. Does that put the signer under obligation to us or does it not? My friends there can be no law by which it is all wrong for you to break your word and all right for God to break His. God is under unmistakeable obligation to us.

Mr. Hall then went on to show how fully God met His obligations in the natural realm, and also in the spiritual. Men are only partly faithful; God fully and constantly so The lessons he built upon the thought were trust, courage and enthusiastic service.

In the evening Rev. E. D. Hall, the pastor's brother, spoke. The audience was greatly profited.

LIGHT IN THE DARKNESS.

Rev, Mr. Denison's Theme at The Congregational Church.

At the Congregational church yesterday, the pastor, Rev. R. O. Denison, preached from the text in Isaiah 21, 11 and 12 on the theme "Light Mingling With Darkness." He said in part:

"Watchman, what of the night?" These words are an anxious question. A nation cries out of its afflictions and I ask the prephet how long their troubles last. There has been many a soul who has asked the question of God out of its own pain and weakness and sin—how soon will the day come, or will it never come, or will it never come? The answer is the hosts of light and darkness are mingled in conflict, but the cross will be triumphant History has Paul and Nero working side by side, one an apostle of light, the other a demon of darkness. So it is with our individual lives Light and darkness mingle—success and failure—one nature is true and the other false. This thought teaches us the fact of brotherhood. None is so great but he has his faults, and none so bad that there may not be some virtue. Our friend at our side has the same struggle that we have. And he who would go to the world to help it must have knowledge of this fact, that good and evil will be found. The wise father rears his child with this in view

Conversion is but the beginning of the struggle. Go your way, return to your place, work and love until the end.

The evening theme was "The Temptation to Neutrality."

ALL EQUAL BEFORE GOD

Sermon by Rev. Mr. Pence at the Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Mr. Pence preached from the text in Acts 10-34, "Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons." It was a hard lesson for Peter to learn that the blessings of the gospel belonged to some one else beside himself. Perhaps it is just as hard for us to learn that these blessings belonged to us as well as to some one else.

The way God manifested his love for his people in the Old and New Testament times is precisely the way he is trying to manifest it to you and me now. It cost God the expenditure of his blood and of men and means and life and time to write this Bible and to give it to us with open page, in this day of liberty to read it at our will and pleasure. The Bible is not a popular book an never will be. It tells the truth too plainly.

One of the first things Jesus wishes to do for us is to awaken in us a sense of sin, a sense of something we ought to have which we have not, and a sense of that which we possess, or which possesses us, which we ought not to possess.

Again, Jesus wishes to awaken in us a sense that we are forgiven, and taken back into his heart, just as he forgave Peter, and sent him the message, "Go tell my disciples and Peter." And after this Peter became the general and commander of that magnificent little army. Jesus called Peter's attention to his particular sin and weakness, the sin of vain self-confidence, the sin of pride and selfishness, of envy and covetousness of the highest and best places that there are in life, whether in Jesus' church or in the world. And when any of us are called to become a christian, there immediately occurs to us the particular sin, or weakness, or indulgence that we will have to give up and throw overboard, if we are to live a consistent christian life.

Just as Jesus explained away Nicodemus' intellectual doubts and difficulties, so he deals with us today. He showed Nicodemus that there must be a change in our natures before we can enter the kingdom of heaven, the presence of God. God is not going to adopt heaven to un, as though we are greater than God, but we must be adapted to Heaven, and to live with God forever.

Afflictions and bereavements are another of God's ways of dealing with us, a personal message from him to us, of his love and wisdom.

Let us learn to read our Bible and in the light of a personal message from God. If we are rebels, it reads like a death warrant. If children, it is like a message from the father.

TREATMENT OF CABBAGE ROT

The Disease is Preventible and May Be Checked if Taken in Time

The agriculture experiment station sends out the following bulletin on cabbage rot:

Inasmuch as *B campestris generally establishes itself in the plant through the water pores, and as considerable time elapses from the first evidences of the disease until it has worked its way down into the main stem it is possible to hold the disease in check in its early stages by a removal of the affected organs. One can readily determine whether the leaf is diseased or not by examining the cross section of the stalk. It blackens near the union of leaf and stem, even if small specks appear in the fibrous strands, the disease organism has undoubtedly entered the plant. If such has happened, nothing can be done to further check its progress. Such plants should be pulled up and destroyed entirely. If thrown on the ground the diseased tissues dry and the bacilli of the disease are then redily distributed by the winds.

If close watch is kept for the early appearance of the disease, the removal of the affected leaves is a matter of small moment.

Such a method of treatment necessarily consumes some time but it can be done by cheap labor With a crop worth from $75 to $150 per acre, considerable labor can well be expended if attended with any degree of success. The amount of labor necessary to carry out this restrictive measure will vary with the intensity of the disease, but a man could easily cover several acres a day.

The feasibility of this method was demonstrated not only last year experimentally but also under commmercial conditions. By removing the affected leaves at intervals during the months of August and September, the disease was held in subjection and a good crop secured while control fields were badly affected

Bacillus campestris* is the scientific or technical name of the species of bacteria that is the real cause of this disease.

NEW MANAGER FOR THE OPERA HOUSE

MANY IMPROVEMENTS TO THE THEATER CONTEMPLATED.

New Frescoes, Upholstering and Lighting Apparatus Ordered—Many First Class Attractions Booked for the Coming Season—Open Early in the Fall.

The Myers Grand Opera house, under the management of Peter L. Myers, will be opened to the public on the evening of Thursday, September 15. No special attraction has as yet been booked for the opening night, but Mr. Myers says it will be one of the best of New York companies. Attractions second to none that travel the country are now booked for the coming season, and Janesville theatre goers will again have the pleasure of witnessing nothing but the best.

Good Companies Booked.

During the past few weeks Mr Myers has been in daily correspondence with the leading theatrical managers throughout the country, which has resulted in his booking many companies that have not made Janesville in late years, but which have played in such nearby towns as Rockford and Madison. Why this city has not had these attractions during the past two years is a mystery to the theatre going public. True, it is that we have had several good shows, but they have been far in the minority compared to those that have proved worse than nothing at all.

Repairs to Be Made.

The opera house in its present condition needs much repairing, from the gallery to the stage. Many of the seats are out of order, while water from a leaking roof has damaged the frescoed walls on many sides. On the stage and in the dressing rooms much money is to be expended in putting them in first class shape again. An electric lighting system is to be one of the new features. Colored lights that will throw three different rays of light are to be placed at the foot light, besides the addition of several dozen lights in other portions of the house. New draperies, where needed, will be put in as well as much painting and frescoing that will have to be done in many parts.

Manager Stoddard's lease of the house expires in August, when Mr. Myers will at once take hold.

BOYS WRECKED THE TRAIN

A Party of Young Hoodlums Prove to Be the Guilty Ones.

Detective Patrick Casey, of the C. & N. W. railroad, who has been in the city during the past few days, has just accomplished a good piece of work, with other officers, in capturing the parties who wrecked the passenger train near Rockford

The guilty parties proved to be two 16-year-old boys

Six boys who live at Rockford were rounded up by the detectives. They went at them vigorously and sifted them down to Smith and Hail. After a long pumping—it required several hours—Smith gave in and told the story. When he was through he was quite broken up, and repeated again and again that he did not intend to kill anyone and was sorry the fireman died.

OPEN LETTERS FROM

Jennie E. Green and Mrs. Harry Hardy.

JENNIE E GREEN, Denmark, Iowa, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I had been sick at my monthly periods for seven years, and tried almost everything I ever heard of, but without any benefit. Was troubled with backache, headache, pains in the shoulders and dizziness. Through my mother I was induced to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has done me so much good. I am now sound and well."

Mrs. HARRY HARDY, Riverside, Iowa, writes to Mrs. Pinkham the story of her struggle with serious ovarian trouble, and the benefit she received from the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This is her letter:

"How thankful I am that I took your medicine. I was troubled for two years with inflammation of the womb and ovaries, womb was also very low. I was in constant misery. I had heart trouble, was short of breath and could not walk five blocks to save my life. Suffered very much with my back, had headache all the time, was nervous, menstruations were irregular and painful, had a bad discharge and was troubled with bloating. I was a perfect wreck. Had doctored and taken local treatments, but still was no better. I was advised by one of my neighbors to write to you. I have now finished the second bottle of Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and am better in every way. I am able to do all my own work and can walk nearly a mile without fatigue; something I had not been able to do for over two years. Your medicine has done me more good than all the doctors."

GOVERNMENT LEVEE BREAKS.

Torrents from the Wabash and Ohio Rivers Sweep Everything Before Them —Hundreds Seek Safety Upon the Roofs of Houses—Residents from Neighboring Towns Hasten to Their Relief—Telegraphic Communication Entirely Cut Off.

Carmi, Ill., April 4.—Two hundred and fifty persons are reported to have been drowned at Shawneetown Sunday afternoon by the breaking of the levee. Flood waters from the swollen torrents of the Wabash and Ohio rivers rushed down upon the city and swept away everything in their path.

It is impossible to obtain either telegraphic or telephonic communication with the stricken city. The reports of the enormous loss of life, amounting to 10 per cent of Shawneetown's population, come from survivors who have arrived at points down the river.

The first reports of the disaster came here at 5:30 o'clock from Cypress Junction, situated six miles from Shawneetown. At that time a telephone message contained the meager information that the levee had given way and that great loss of life was feared. Later information has borne out this fear in appalling manner, the statement on the number of victims growing with each hour.

At midnight a message from Cypress Junction stated that Shawneetown is completely washed away and that the raging waters extend four miles beyond the limits of the city.

Measures for the relief of the unfortunate people have been quickly taken by the neighboring towns. Hundreds of survivors, it is stated, are now on the roofs of houses or have sought safety in trees, and boats manned by willing men are plying to and fro rescuing them as fast as possible from their places of peril.

The flood waters come principally from the Ohio river, which for weeks has been a raging torrent through practically its entire length. The levee had withstood its assaults for so long that it was believed all danger was past, and the disaster came therefore with all the force of suddenness. Precautions against a break in the levee had been taken at various times when the flood was at its height, but reports of late had been of a most reassuring character.

It is believed here that the great duration of the flood had gradually undermined the levee, and that this, rather than the actual force of the waters at the present time, is responsible for the break.

Hundreds of residents of this city have gone down the river to afford whatever assistance they can to the survivors.

Shawneetown has a population of between 2,500 and 3,000. It is one of the oldest towns in Illinois, and years ago, before the railroad had driven traffic to the rear, it was of great prominence as a trading station. It is located on the St. Louis & Southeastern and on the Ohio & Mississippi railroads, of which latter it is the southeastern terminus of the Springfield division. Shawneetown is the county seat of Gallatin county and is situated practically at the confluence of the Ohio and Wabash rivers. The levee which has given away was situated above the city.

In the vicinity of Shawneetown are located a number of coal mines, while lead deposits of greater or lesser extent also exist. In the city itself there are a number of prosperous factories.

MAY REACH ONE THOUSAND.

Special to Louisville Courier-Journal Magnifies the Disaster.

Louisville, Ky., April 4.—A special to the Courier-Journal from Evansville, Ind., says that the levee at Shawneetown, Ill., broke a mile above the town and from all the information that can be secured a great part of the place has been destroyed and a large number of citizens have been drowned.

Shawneetown is seventy-five miles below Evansville on the Ohio river. It is situated in a valley of extremely low land, with hills skirting it in the rear and with a twenty-five foot levee front running from hill to hill. The town is very much in the position of a fortified city, and when the levee gave way a mile above town under the pressure of the very high river the water shot through a twenty-foot opening and struck the place like a hurricane, sweeping everything before it.

Houses were turned and tossed about like boxes. The people were not warned of the break, and for that reason so many were caught. Those at home sought refuge in second stories and on house tops. Those in the streets were carried before the avalanche of water, and probably a majority were drowned.

Citizens came from the place by skiffs to a telephone several miles away and asked for aid from Evansville. They said that more than 200 people were drowned, and they had reason to believe it would reach 500 or even 1,000.

The water stands from twenty to thirty feet all over the town.

There are, of course, no fire or lights in the place, and total darkness envelops the desolate scene. Consequently it was impossible for them to have anything like definite information. The men quickly left the telephone, and no communication has since been had with the place. All telephone and telegraph wires are now down, and outside communication appears to be impossible.

At 10 o'clock tonight two steamboats and a couple of tugs started for Shawneetown, under full head of steam. They carry large supplies of food and blankets, quickly collected by the Evansville city officials.

OLD RIVER TOWN.

Stricken City Once a Place of Considerable Commercial Importance.

St. Louis, April 4.—Shawneetown, which is reported to have been swept away by the breaking of the levee, with enormous attendant loss of life, is one of the oldest towns in Illinois, and in earlier days, when all traffic was by river, it was a place of considerable commercial importance. While there is a high hill situated from half a mile to a mile back of town, yet like many river towns, the business houses and dwellings are on the river bank, and for many years have been subject to overflow. Consequently people have regularly moved their goods into the upper stories of dwellings and stores when flood waters appeared.

A levee was built along the front of the river bank and it extended in a semi-circle until the ends touched the high ground of hills. The Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern railroad built this levee up higher and strengthened it several times and kept it in repair in return for certain concessions. Heretofore if the citizens felt there was any danger of the levee giving way they have cut the levee at the south end of the town, letting in the back water and flooding the town. After the levee was built higher and had been strengthened it withstood several floods. The Ohio was up to high water mark last year, but it stood that flood safely.

The report says the north levee is broken. The current of the river is said to bring very heavy pressure on the north levee, which appears to have broken when the people were not apprehending danger. The water of the Ohio then poured into the town, inclosing the people in a trap.

All railroad communication has been cut off for a week and there is no telegraph or telephone communication Particulars are hence very meager.

Weekly Bank Statement.

New York, April 4.—The bank statement issued today was, in a general way, in line with those of the last few weeks, although the changes in some of the items were rather less pronounced. There was again an increase in the reserve and losses in both loans and deposits. The changes from last week were as follows: Reserve, increase, $1,869,325; loans, decrease, $4,317,200; specie, increase, $5,265,600; legal tenders, decrease, $4,250,700; deposits, decrease, $3,413,700; circulation, increase, $4,100.

Cost of the Iowa Assembly.

Des Moines, Iowa, April 4.—The general assembly passed ninety-seven bills, not including all of the appropriation bills; five joint resolutions, the support-fund bills and the legalization acts. The assembly appropriated $317,035 for state institution extraordinary expenses, $121,428.95 for general purposes and additional bills for support of state institutions amounting to $77,500. The sum of $140,751.87 is what the session cost the taxpayers of Iowa.

Big Strike at Chicago.

Chicago, April 4.—Two trades affiliated with the Building Trades council are involved in strikes which began this morning. Carpenters to the number of 5,000 engaged in a general suspension and every member of the Operative Plasterers' union whose employer did not agree to pay the full rate of wages laid down his tools and quit. The strike is an effort to wipe out forever the exclusive conditions which the contractors desire to enforce.

To Try the Indian Burners.

Perry, O. T., April 4.—The federal authorities have perfected all arrangements for the prosecution of persons who burned the two Seminole Indians, Lincoln McGeisey and Palmer Sampson, near Maud, I. T., for the murder of Mrs. Julius Laird. A United States court will be convened at Tecumseh, Pottawatomie county today. Subpoenas have been issued for nearly 100 witnesses. About 100 persons have been arrested by deputy United States marshals.

Great Britain Wants a "Lease."

Pekin, April 4.—Great Britain has demanded a lease of Wei-Hai-Wei, on the Shan Tung peninsula, after the Japanese evacuation, as a compensation for the disturbance of the balance of power in the Gulf of Pe-Chi-Li. In diplomatic circles small doubt is entertained that China will concede the demand, which is believed to be favorably regarded by Japan.

Coal Miners to Secede.

Springfield, Ill., April 4.—A call has been issued for a mass-meeting of all day hands employed in the state coal mines, to be held here April 11, for the purpose of forming an organization. The idea of the organization is to withdraw from the similar organization of the United Mine-Workers of America and to form an association on independent lines.

Fear the Bark Is Lost.

San Francisco, April 4.—Little hope is entertained for the safety of the old wooden bark Dominion, which sailed for this port 100 days ago from New Castle, N. S. W., coal laden. She had not been reported since her departure.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

HENRY IV.

1366—Henry IV of England, son of John of Gaunt and founder of the house of Lancaster, born at Bolingbroke; died 1413.
1774—Oliver Goldsmith, poet and miscellaneous writer, died in London; born in Ireland 1728.
1792—Thaddeus Stevens, statesman, born; died 1868.
1841—President William Henry Harrison died.
1865—President Lincoln entered Richmond. The president was with Grant at Petersburg when word came of the fall of Richmond. He went there immediately and almost his first act was to visit the quarters of the fugitive president of the Confederacy. For a few moments he sat in the chair of the fallen leader absorbed in somber reverie. His acts and speeches in the southern capital were kindly and pacific.
1883—Peter Cooper, American philanthropist, founder of Cooper institute, died; born 1791.
1888—Benjamin Harris Brewster, ex-attorney general of the United States, died in Philadelphia; born 1817.
1895—Ex-Governor William Marshall of Minnesota died; born 1825.

THE DUTY OF VOTERS.

Tomorrow is election day and the voters will be called upon to decide upon the men who will govern for the next two years.

The duty of the citizen is an important one.

Many important matters must be passed upon during the next two years. The city must expend a large amount of money, and conservative business men should be chosen. The common council must provide for a city lockup, which means a considerable outlay, and the question of sewerage will doub less be raised before the aldermen who will be elected tomorrow go out of office. The republicon nominees—F. E. Fifield, William Burchell, Edwin F. Carpenter, W. G. Palmer and W. H Jones are all men of standing, and the people respect and trust them. Therefore they thould be elected.

Nor is that all.

The county board of supervisors must also deal with weighty problems. A new jail must be built, or the old one remoeled, by order of the State Board of Control. The tax payers of the city should elect business men to represent them in the consideration of this matter. W. W. Porter, C. D. Child, J. L. Bear, W. H. H. Macloon and W. G. Brandt are representative business men and will act wisely. Therefore they should be chosen.

Nor is that all.

The Janesville schools are the pride of the city. They represent the progress and public spirit of the people. The interests of the children of today—for they are the rulers of tomorrow—demand the best possible educational facilities. A. G. Anderson and Fred L. Clemons are experienced and to them much credit is due for our fine school system. They should be reelected.

The voters all know James A. Fathers, H. S. Sloan, J. H. Palmer, W. S. Jeffris and M. P Richardsrn, the candidates on the city ticket. They are men in whom all have the fullest confidence.

The city ticket is as strong a one as was ever nominated.

The ward tickets could not be improved upon.

Vote the straight republican ticket.

It represents the best interests of the people.

WHY THEY WANT CARPENTER.

Third ward people may be surprised to know just about $8204.95 has been expended in the streets of that ward in two years, and they may even wonder where it was spent When Alderman F. S. Winslow went out of office he left $2,200 in the ward fund. Since then $3,600 has been raised and spent and in addition the ward fund is now in debt j s $1,004.95 About all the ward has to show for this expense, is some imitation mecadam on South Main street, some repairs on Milwankee street, and the clay on Court and South First Street hills. No wonder the people of the ward want Ed F. Carpenter for alderman. He is a conservative careful businest man and will only spend the peoples' money when they will get the good thereof. Mr. Carpenter is noted for exact business methods and no senseless extravagance will be the result of his election. He is the right man for the place and should have a very large majority.

Mr. Carpenter will not be afraid to tell the council what he thinks concerning the use of worthless material in macadamizing streets. Everyone knows that the stone used in this work is worse than worthless yet only the explanation many alderman make is "I use it because I do not want to raise a row." Ed F. Carpenter will not be afraid to "raise a row" when the interests of the people are at stake. He has the courage of his convictions. He cannot be driven or bulldozed, but is always ready to listen to reason. The city needs aldermen of this character—men who will hew to the line, let the chips fall where they will.

Edwin F. Carpenter is not afraid to say what he thinks, yet if it can be shown that he is in the wrong, he is not too stubborn to admit it. Men of his stripe are needed in the public service. Putty men make poor offilals. Ed. F. Carpenter is not a putty man, but is fearless and fair minded. Vote for him for alderman from the Third ward.

W. S. Jeffris is one of the sterling business men of the city. Upon the school board grave duties devolve—the equipping of the children for future usefulness. What problem could be of more importance to the people? Select the best men in the city for school commissioners. W. S. Jeffris is one of them. Vote for him.

A. G. Anderson and Fred L. Clemons have been valuable men on the school board. The voters of the Fourth and Second wards well know this, and the majorities gi em these two men will be large.

William Burchell, the candidate for alderman in the Second ward, is a highly respected business man and a good citizen. His judgment will be of value in the council, and his election is assured.

There should be no mugwumery in the Third ward this spring. The republicans have had a pretty good illustration of the cost of such ill advised action during the past two years.

The city should have a lawyer as an alderman. Ed. F. Carpenter is a good lawyer, and will make a good alderman. Third ward voters should therefore see to it that his majority is large.

W. H. Jones, the republican candidate for alderman in the Fifth ward has made a record in the council to which his friends point with pride. He will be re-elected.

Remember, the office of supervisor is an important one just now. The republicans have nominated the best men for the places, and they should get hearty support.

C. D. Child has served the city as alderman and supervisor, and Second ward people appreciate his services. They will re-elect him by an increased majority.

Frank E. Fifield is one of the substantial business men of the city. First ward voters will make no mistake in selecting him for their alderman.

W. G. Palmer, who stands for all that is good in city government, should be elected alderman from the Fourth ward. He is a level headed business man.

The five republican candidates for aldermen are able, conscientious, and honest men. What additional qualifications could be required?

W. G Palmer is a clean cut, honest, level headed business man—just the man for all good Fourth ward citizens to support for alderman.

Putty men make good salesmen, but poor city officials. There are no putty men on the republican ticket, so vote it straight.

W. H. H. Macloon will make a good supervisor. Elect him, voters of "the Fourth."

Vote the republican ticket and put capable business men in official places

Vote the ticket straight. No better one was ever nominated.

Senator Mason, it may be remarked, is a sort of a political hod carrier.

Starving Hearts

Are Hungry Hearts---Hearts Whose Store of Energy is Exhausted---Whose Vital Force Is Gone. Feed Them With

DR. MILES' NEW HEART CURE,

The Great Heart and Blood Tonic.

Mearly all ill health is due to overexertion, improper or insufficient nourishment, or both. Fatigue affects the heart action, which in turn retards the circulation, deranging the stomach and liver and polluting the blood with impurities from the worn out tissues. The muscular power is reduced. The nerve force is exhaused. Nature is powerless and cries out for help Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is the best known medicine for overworked men and women. It makes the digestion perfect, the appetite keen, and promotes the natural activity of the entire nutritive organism. It makes blood—pure, rich, life giving blood—and lots of it. It invigorates the the nerves, builds solid flesh, and puts a end to the slow starvation that is at the base of the many diseases.

Mrs. A. J. Barrows, Harvard, Ill., although past middle life is as blythe and cheerful as many matrons twenty years her junior. She says: "My case is one of long standing. I have been troubled with my heart for many years. It finally became so bad that I could do nothing about the house. If I attempted to sweep or help with the house work, my heart would flutter and I would be taken with fainting spells, I could not rest a night, and when I laid down I could not breathe, but felt that I was being smothered. I had employed physicians and tried medicines without receiving benefit, and had lost faith in everything of the kind. My son finally induced me to try Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and after taking the first bottle I felt a decided change for the better. I used it several weeks and my health was restored. I can sleep well, eat well and feel better than I have in twenty years."

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is the most reliable heart medicine known, and will give relief when others fail.

A weak heart affects all other organs of the body by depriving them of nourishment. It is frequently accompanied with nervousness, irritability, unsound sleep, morbid fears.

A POSITIVE GUARANTEE.

You run no risk in giving Dr. Miles' Heart Oure a trial. If the first bottle fails to benefit you, take the empty bottle to your druggist and get your money back. All druggists are authorized to sell the first bottle with that understanding. Book on the heart and nerves sent free. Address,

WISCONSIN WOMAN SLAIN AT SEATTLE

MRS MARGARET O'ROURKE BRUTALLY MURDERED.

She Wes a Former Resident of Janesville—Was Divorced by Judge Bennett from One of Her Three Husbands—Bore a Shady Reputation at Milwaukee.

On Friday, March 25, the dead body of Mrs. Margaret O'Rourke was found in her room at the Monongahela House in Seattle, Wash., lying upon her bed. The cold, rigid form was smeared with blood from the head to the shouldars. The hands and arms were bathed in gore. On her head were five horrible wounds made with an old hammer which the murderer had thrown under the bed.

There were pools of blood on the floor at the side of the bed over which a comforter had been thrown. In a wash bowl was blood stained water.

The murderer committed his awful deed, concealed his work temporarily, locked the door, put the key in his pocket and walked away.

No one saw him enter the room or go away There is no trace of his identity. The detectives differ in opinions as to the motive for the foul deed.

A Wisconsin Woman.

Mrs. O'Rourke was a resident of Wisconsin for several years, and for a short time lived in this city, doing business as a milliner. She obtained a divorce from James O'Rourke, February 3, 1896, at Jefferson, Wis., on the ground of inhuman treatment. At that time Judge John R. Bennett, of this city, granted her permission to resume her former name, Margaret Doerstling, as it appears in the order of court. The last name shows connecting link with a marriage certificate found in her trunk. There was a letter among her effects from Isaac G. Goforth, written at the Soldiers home, Milwaukee, Wis., March 8, 1897, in which in calls her his "own dear, sweet, precious little God-blessed pet," add immediately speaks of himself as her husband. According to this count, Mrs. O'Rourke has had three chapters of wedded bliss. There is nothing to show how she was separated from Doerstling, but a Post-Intelligencer reporter saw the order of court that separated her fram O'Rourke. Goforth is a new factor, and just when he acquired the right to use such sweeping terms of love and affection toward the dead woman is hard to figure out.

Had Lived a Fast Life

A telegram from Chief of Police Jansen, of Milwaukee, received at Seattle, fixes the identity of the victim of the atrocious crime. He says:

"Mrs. O'Rourk was divorced from O'Rourke two years ago. He has since died. Mrs. O'Rourke kept a house of ill-fame here."

As yet no clue to the murderer has been discovered. It has been ascertained that two of her husbands have died—O'Rourke and Doerstling—and the third, Isaac Goforth, an old soldier, is at present an inmate of the Soldiers' Home at Marion, Indiana. Hence the police have been obliged to give up the idea that one of these, prompted by jealousy, might have committed the deed. Robbery seems to be the most probable motive for the deed. The victim seemed to have some money, but she was not extravagant in spending it She had not been in Seattle long enough to have formed many acquaintance, and the hotelkeeper asserts that no man ever visited her in her room. The murderer must have gained access to it by stealth or have been one of the boarders in the house. None of the latter, however, is suspected.

The case is one that puzzles the police, and promises to remain an unsolved mystery.

$8,204.95 PAID OUT IN THE THIRD WARD

ARE RESULTS SATISFACTORY TO THE PEOPLE?

This Large Amount of Money Has Been Expended For Street Work During the Past Two Years—Balance Left By Ald. Winslow and $6,004.95 More Spent.

During the past two years the sum of $8,204.95 has been expended on the streets of the Third ward.

Has this heavy expenditure for street work been productive of satisfactory results? Was the work well managed?

When Alderman F. S Winslow went out of office, he left a balance of $2,200 in the ward fund. In addition to this amount, $2,000 was raised in taxes in 1896. Alderman George M. McKey succeeded Mr. Winslow, and being the 'junior alderman" of the ward, had charge of the street work during his first year's service. Alderman McKey expended, on the streets, the $2 200 left by Alderman Winslow the $2,000 levied, and ran the ward fund in debt $404.95 besides. Therefore Alderman McKey expended $4,604.95 during his first year in office. The people of the ward know whether or not the money was well spent. The macadamizing of Main street, poor as it is, did not all come out of this amount. Although the city has no record to go by, it is said that but one half of the Main street job was done that year, and the $404.95 indebtedness was incurred to buy stone to finish up Alderman McKey's part of the work.

The figures in relation so the ward fund are as follows:

The Official Figures.

Balance left by Alderman Winslow	$2,200.00
Levy of 1896 (Alderman McKey)	2,000.00
Levy of 1897 (Alderman Gilkey)	3,000.00
Fund in debt, 1896 (Alderman McKey)	404.95
Fund in debt, 1897 (Alderman Gilkey)	600.00
Total expense	$8,204.95

Alderman Gilkey, it is true, has spent part of this money. The street work for 1897 has been in his hands. He has expended $3,600 in all, but with this money he paid for his share of the macadamizing. It was also during Alderman Gilkey's term that the severe floods occurred, and many streets were literally "washed away." The expense of repairing washouts was very heavy. Thus a portion of this money was spent for emergency repairs, and is not therefore properly chargeable to Alderman Gilkey. He has paid for his share of the macadamizing, made routine repairs, and fixed up the flood washed streets, with about $1,000 less than was spent by Alderman McKey although the latter had no flood damages to repair.

The city has no records for what ward funds are spent, so a detailed list of expenses—such as the putting of clay on the streets, etc—cannot be given.

But the fact remains that $8,204.95 has been spent on Third ward streets during the past two years, of which Ald. McKey directed the expenditure of $4,604.95 while Ald. Gilkey spent but $3,600—including all his macadamizing, etc., and the heavy expense consequent to the floods.

These figures speak for themselves and Third ward people can draw their own conclusions.

How to Mark the Ticket

Voters should bear in mind the fact that marking an X in the square at the top of the ticket will register a straight vote. Thus:

REPUBLICAN TICKET [X]

In voting for individual candidates the cross must be placed in the square AFTER the name. Thus:

JAMES A. FATHERS [X]

However, placing a mark at the top of the republican ticket is the quickest and best way of registering your choice.

Ed. O. Smith has been put on the First ward democratic ticket as the aldermanic candidate in place of I. P. Baker, declined.

Burpee and The Flag.

Railroad men do not like F. C. Burpee's action in relation to raising the flag at the C. & N. W. depot. All the other school commissioners were willing to dismiss school for that event, but the railway men charge that Commissioner Burpee refused to agree thereto, and school was not dismissed. Therefore many railroad men are against Mr. Burpee.

DON'T WANT WILD OATS

Farmers Object to the Seed Barley Sent from Jefferson County.

Farmers about the county have a fight on their hands about the seed barley sent down from Jefferson county. There were 423 bushels ordered last fall by a number of Rock Prairie farmers. The grain was delivered on March 30. Inspection showed it full of wild oats, and the farmers refused to receive it. They have notified the Jefferson shippers that the grain is here subject to their order.

Steps to Secure an Armistice.

Washington, April 4.—The Spanish minister has received a dispatch from Havana stating that the autonomist cabinet has addressed an appeal to the insurgents, asking them to arrange an armistice for the purpose of arriving at terms of peace. The insurgents are appealed to on the grounds that they are all Cubans and should unite for peace and liberty, which all want. The appeal also states that Spain is willing to enlarge the present scope of autonomy, promise to commence one within ten days after you arrive in Greeley, I will agree to stop any contemplated proceedings against you until after that time. "N. W. HALL."

"Now, I want to show you an instance of the wonderful magnanimity of my wife," continued Mr. Southworth. "Here is a letter she sent to the Hon. Attorney Haines, of Greeley." This letter reads:

His Wife's Magnanimity

"To Whom it May Concern: In face of the facts that have made the privacies of our home a subject of public gossip and slander, I appeal to the honor of the people of this community. I want the people to know that all my life with Mr. Southworth has been most happy and he has been a true man and has always been prompted by the highest motives, I feel sure.

"I believe Mrs. Jastrowitz to be a true, pure woman, and I know that the relations existing between them are of the highest and noblest kind. I do not feel that any wrong has been done to myself or the children.

"Mrs. Jastrowitz is in our home today at my invitation and will remain there until such time as Mr. Southworth and myself can secure a legal separation, in order that he may protect the name and character of Mrs. Jastrowiti from further misrepresentation and be formally married to her. This action is forced upon us all, not by any wrong that we have done, but by the unfortunate interference of other people. Sincerely,

"HELEN SOUTHWORTH."

Mrs Jastrowitz is at present visiting Mr. and Mrs W. C. Packard, 1145 Pearl street. Mr. Packard said this morning:

"I knew nothing about the Greeley scandal until within the last few hours. I have known the lady in question for more than twenty years and have never heard any uncomplimentary talk against her. Her husband was formerly a prominent Denver merchant and both of them had a host of friends here. She feels that she has been grossly abused by the Greeley people but as stated before I do not know any of the circumstances. It seems to me that her father's unreasonableness was instrumental in precipitating the scandal quicker than it otherwise would have occurred. She is independent and proud spirited, and I am sure she was not guilty, although she may have been highly imprudent."

MACHINE COMPANY ERECT NEW FOUNDRY

IMPROVEMENT SHORTLY TO BE MADE COSTING $5,000

Structure Will Be Brick and Will Mean the Employing of Fifty More Men—Contract to be Let Soon—Room Needed for the Manufacture of Plows.

Directors of the Janesville Machine Company have unanimously voted for the erection of a new foundry building. The new structure will be built of brick, will be two stories high and will occupy the northeast corner of River and Center streets. The present intention is to erect a building 35 x100 feet running to the river, the estimated cost being $5,000. As yet the contract has not been let, but bids from builders will soon be asked for.

Business Requires It

An increase in business in every department during the past few months has compelled the directors to make this extra expenditure. Since the company commenced the manufacture of plows orders have been coming in from all parts of the country at such a lively rate that the company now find some difficulty in handling the business. The plow department when first added, was a portion of the large foundry, but of late these quarters have been two small to answer for both purposes—the foundry and manufacture of plows. It is the intention now to turn the present foundry building into an exclusive plow manufacturing plant, and move the foundry proper across the street with the completion of the new building. This change in conveniences will necessitate the employment of several extra hands, the greater portion of which will be added to the plow department which will be fitted out with new and costly machinery Probably fifty extra hands will be given work as the result of this change.

Satisfied with the Outlook

"It is really surprising the amount of orders that we have been receiving of late," said one connected with the works today, "for not only have plow orders been coming in at a lively rate, but it likewise applies to every department in the factory. It will be one of the greatest years in our history."

The Janesville Machine Works is an institution that the citizens of Janesville take a keen interest in, and that they are soon to erect another building that will employ more men, will be good news to all.

So Many Interesting Items

Are claiming our attention in our furnishing department that we scarcely know which to take about first. There is our $1.50 glove, for instance. We know of nothing so good at half a dollar more. The colorings are the newest.

There's our 50-cent neckwear. If the sort of stuff we see displayed in other stores at $1 is any better we can't tell the difference—neither can you. Then, again, there's our 50-cent spring-weight patent-clasp suspender. When you see it you won't pay much attention to the one we are showing at $1, but then we had bought the $1 grade before we had seen these remarkable 50-cent braces. Then these double-soled lisle-thread half hose, in browns and tans, at 25 cents, are wonderful value, as you will see at a glance. Real Irish linen handkerchiefs, with self and hemstitched edges, will attract you to them with their big value magnetism; and so we might quote a hundred or two more items, only we'd rather have you come to the store and see all these things and judge of their values yourself.

A Word About Repairs

Our repair department is in charge of a first-class tailor. We do repairing, cleaning and pressing of all kinds at moderate prices. If you have cloth you wish made up we will cut, make and trim it in the best manner. All clothes bought at our store we keep in press free of charge.

ENTERED ON ITS LAST WEEK.

Retail Merchants Have Refused Further Credit to the Strikers—It Is Feared That Serious Riots Will Occur When the Mills Are Opened.

New Bedford, Mass., April 4.—The feeling regarding the strike is that it has entered on its twelfth and last week. There is a movement on foot to open the mill gates either during the latter part of this week or on Monday morning, April 11, and the effort will undoubtedly be made.

The retail merchants have ceased to give credit to the strikers. This will undoubtedly have a weighty influence toward a speedy settlement, inasmuch as many of the strikers have been depending upon their credit for support.

There is quite a difference of opinion regarding the prospective opening of the mills. Some of the most enthusiastic unionists are opposed to going in and are anxious to keep the rest out and unless there is a change of sentiment riots will follow the opening of the gates.

LAID IN THE TOMB.

Bodies of Duelists Brann and Davis Buried Beneath Flowers.

Waco, Texas, April 4.—Thomas E. Davis and W. C. Brann, who killed each other Friday in a street duel, were buried at the same time Sunday afternoon in cemeteries about a mile apart. Ten thousand people were equally divided between the two funerals.

Will H. Ward, business manager of the Iconoclast, attended the funeral and acted as a pallbearer. He is under arrest charged with assisting Brann in shooting Davis after the latter had fallen under Brann's bullets. Ward was accompanied by a deputy sheriff and was returned to jail after the funeral.

Mrs. Brann is suffering from insomnia and is in danger of losing her mind.

The floral offerings placed on the graves of Davis and Brann would fill two freight cars.

Washington, April 4.—The Indiana and Iowa of the Atlantic squadron, at Key West, have been instructed to keep in position to prevent an unexpected attack upon the south Atlantic coast from a Spanish fleet.

The movement for the interception of the torpedo flotilla has been abandoned. The administration does not feel warranted in taking such a hostile step before a declaration of war, even though naval officers recommend it.

Big Trust is Formed.

Anderson, Ind., April 4.—The final figures were balanced Sunday, closing up the affairs of the American Wire Nail company in this city and the fourteen other large wire and wire nail mills throughout the country, and they have become parts of one great plant under the name of the American Steel and Wire company, which will control 85 per cent of the product in the nation.

All plants have been closed down since March 31, but most of them will resume at once.

For Yukon Headquarters.

New York, April 4.—The government has decided to establish the Yukon headquarters of administration at Fort Selkirk, where the Lewes and Pelly rivers join to form the Yukon. Fort Selkirk is 200 miles up the Yukon from Dawson City. There the protected bank will be established, so that Fort Selkirk and not Dawson City will soon be the capital of the Yukon gold fields.

Zola's Sentence Squashed.

Paris, April 4.—The court of cassation has quashed the sentence of one year's imprisonment and 3,000 francs fine imposed upon M. Zola, Feb. 23, a result of the collapse of the charges made by him in the Aurore against the conduct of the Esterhazy court martial, but the court has not ordered a trial before another assize.

Big Fire at Rock Hill, S. C.

Charlotte, N. C., April 4.—Fire at Rock Hill, S. C., Sunday destroyed twelve buildings, involving a loss of $250,000, upon which there was an insurance of $150,000, distributed in sixteen companies. The origin is yet a matter of speculation.

Fails to Buy Italian Ships.

Rome, April 4.—Commander Brownson's proposition for the purchase of Italian war vessels has been presented to a full cabinet meeting, but no decision was reached. He is leaving Rome without making definite purchases.

Tammany Will Give Soldiers.

New York, April 4.—Tammany hall sent one regiment to the civil war. The leader of Tammany says that Tammany will send thirty-six regiments to fight Spain, if they are needed.

Work of the Tract Society.

Washington, April 4.—The annual meeting of the America Tract society was held Sunday. Rev. John Judson Swift, field secretary at New York, presented a brief report of the society's work. The society publishes books in 153 languages and dialects, and the total number of volumes that have been published in all languages at New York is nearly 36,000,000. The total number of books and tracts is about 500,000,000 and the total number of periodicals upward of 251,000,000.

ADVANCES HAVE BEEN MADE.

General Fear That War Between America and Spain May Result in a European Conflagration—President McKinley Will Ask for Further Delay.

Washington, April 4.—It is learned from perfectly reliable sources that while there has been no attempt on the part of any European nation to intervene or mediate between the United States and Spain, all of the leading governments of Europe, including Great Britain, have been and are exerting their influence to postpone open hostilities in the hope that the strained relations may be peaceably adjusted through diplomatic negotiations.

The action of the European nations is said to be based upon the belief that the peace of Europe is threatened and that war between the United States and Spain would likely prove a torch that would ignite the inflammable conditions that exist in the relations between the nations on the other side of the Atlantic.

Preparations have been made at the Spanish legation in anticipation of a rupture in diplomatic relations with the United States. The departure will be made should congress recognize the independence of Cuba, and in this way: When such resolutions are passed the Spanish minister will notify his home government and await instructions. It is expected that in reply he will receive instructions to emphasize the displeasure of Spain by severing diplomatic relations. The minister will then ask his passports and leave the capital with his staff of employes. The minister's departure from Washington will be followed by the Spanish consuls' departure from their present posts for Spain.

Spain has made a strategic move in getting her warships, the Vizcaya and Oquendo, out of Havana harbor. These vessels, with the Alfonso XII., have been at Havana since shortly after the Maine disaster, and the American naval officers have viewed their presence there with pleasure, as in the event of hostilities they would have been surrounded and been forced to surrender or attempt escape through the American fleet now at Key West. But upon the cable announcement that the torpedo flotilla had reached Porto Rico the warships named steamed out of the harbor for the purpose, it was then thought, of acting as convoys for the torpedo boats from Porto Rico to Havana. Now, however, that it is known that the torpedo flotilla has been driven by storms to the Cape Verde islands, naval officers are forced to the conclusion that Spain accepted the opportunity to remove the Vizcaya and Oquendo to the open seas before the commencement of hostilities. It is probable that both ships will proceed to Porto Rico and there await a declaration of war on the arrival of the torpedo flotilla.

Nearly every member of the cabinet and quite a number of senators and members of the house of representatives visited the white house Sunday. The reticence which most of them observed afterward was quite as marked as that maintained by members of the senate committee on foreign relations and of the house committee on foreign affairs, who, with few exceptions, issued orders that they were to be denied to all callers. There was just one point upon which the white house visitors were united, and that was that the president's message would probably be delayed one day longer than was intimated, and would not go in until Wednesday next. Doubts were expressed whether the full correspondence would be ready for transmission even by that date.

Mr. Babcock of Wisconsin, who is chairman of the republican congression campaign committee, expressed rather strongly his doubt whether the house could be held down three days longer.

The party leaders are extremely anxious to avoid a breach with the executive such as would occur if congress were to take the initiative. After a careful canvass of the situation they believe the radical republicans can be held in line a few days longer—until Wednesday at least. The conference of republicans of the house who have been insisting upon prompt action holds another meeting tonight. While many of them are now in favor of giving the president more leeway than they were last week, it is realized that twenty-five republican votes in the house would, with the democratic and populist votes, be sufficient to act.

It can be pretty confidently asserted that all the republicans of the house, with possibly exceptions which could be counted on the fingers of one hand, can be controlled until Wednesday. After that what might happen if the president asks for further delay is problematical. The republicans of the house committee on foreign affairs have held informal meetings and have practically agreed to report a resolution of a tenor similar to that agreed upon by the foreign relations committee of the senate Saturday. The house resolutions will probably follow the language of those of the senate regarding the blowing up of the Maine.

GERMANY NOW IN THE WAY.

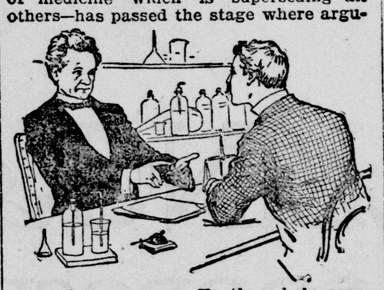

Berlin Government is Asked to Explain Its Demand on Spain.

Washington, April 4.—Assistant Secretary Day of the state department is said to have cabled Minister White at Berlin to ascertain what Germany means by pressing a claim for indemnity against Spain at this juncture. It is asserted that the United States suspects Germany of pressing this claim for the purpose of embarrassing the United States and aiding Spain.

No More Argument.

In the Light of Existing Fact, Why Argue?

The great Munyon system—the school of medicine which is superseding all others—has passed the stage where argument is necessary. To the whole country has come the satisfying demonstrations of its worth and value, and in every hamlet, town, and city is to be found those who have tested the Munyon Remedies, and are ready to go on record as witnesses for the truth.

John Gaffney, expressman, 231 Lyndale Avenue, N., Minneapolis, Minn., says: "If any one says Munyon's Rheumatism Cure is not the best, send them to me and I'll convince him to the contrary. My wife suffered much from rheumatism and hadn't been able for a year to get her arm up towards her head. After she had been taking Munyon's Rheumatism Cure for two days her arm got better; she kept on with the doses, and in a little while she was cured."

Mrs. Hartman, 2319 Cherry Street, Milwaukee, Wis., says: "I give this testimonial for the benefit of sick babies, and in justice to Prof. Munyon's Remedies. My little child was troubled with a severe bronchial cough, and was cured by Munyon's Cough Cure. It worked like magic, giving the baby immediate relief."

Munyon has a separate remedy for each disease, and all druggists sell them. Mostly 25 cents a vial. If in doubt, Professor Munyon invites you to write to him, at 1,505 Arch Street, Philadelphia, for free medical advice.

Should Germany conclude to blockade the port of Havana on the pretense that until Spain paid its claim for the destruction of a Cuban plantation owned by a German subject it would permit no other country to obstruct its commerce, the United States would probably have to fight Germany as well as Spain.

NEW REPORT OF AN ALLIANCE.

Great Britain and America Said to Have Formed a Coalition.

London, April 4.—The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Mail, telegraphing on Saturday, says:

"Information has been received here to the effect that an alliance has been concluded between Great Britain and America for mutual action in the far East alone. As a matter of fact, such an alliance, if concluded, would influence considerably any conflict between America and Spain.

"There is also a report current that France and other powers, including Great Britain, propose that the Cuban people themselves should decide the Cuban problem by a plebiscite, Cuba being a civilized country. In this connection it may be noted that one of the chief arguments in Spain's answer to the American demands is the solution of some of these questions."

NEW MEDICAL DISCOVERY

A Positive Cure For Dyspepsia.

This may look as though we were putting it a little strong, because it is generally thought by the majority of people that dyspepsia in the chronic form is incurable, or practically so, but we have long since shown that dyspepsia is curable, nor is it such a difficult matter as it first appears.

The trouble with dyspeptics is that they are continually dieting, starving themselves, or going to opposite extremes or else delaying the already overburdened stomach with "bitters," "after dinner pills," etc., which invariably increase the difficulty even if in some cases they do give a slight temporary relief. Such treatment of the stomach simply makes matters worse. What the stomach wants is rest. Now how can the stomach become rested, recuperated and at the same time the body nourished and sustained?

This is the great secret and this is also the secret of the uniform success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. This is a comparatively new remedy, but its success and popularity leave no doubt as to its merits.

The tablets will digest food anyway, regardless of condition of stomach.

The sufferer from dyspepsia according to directions is to eat an abundance of good, wholesome food and use the tablets before and after each meal and the result will be digested, no matter how bad your dyspepsia may be, because as before stated, the tablets will digest the food even if the stomach is wholly inactive. To illustrate our meaning plainly, if you take 1,800 grains of meat, eggs or ordinary food and place it in a temperature of 98 degrees, and put with it one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets it will digest the meat or eggs almost as perfectly as if the meat was enclosed within the stomach.

The stomach may be ever so weak yet these tablets will perform the work of digestion and the body and brain will be properly nourished and at the same time a radical, lasting cure of dyspepsia will be made because the much abused stomach will be given, to some extent, a much needed rest. Your druggist will tell you that of the many remedies advertised to cure dyspepsia none of them has given so complete and general satisfaction as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and not least in importance in these hard times is the fact that they are also the cheapest and give the most good for the least money.

ELECTION NOTICE.

Office of County Clerk
March 29, 1898.

To the electors of Rock county (or city): Notice is hereby given that a "judicial and municipal" election is to be held in the several towns, wards and election precincts in the county of Rock on the fifth day of April 1898, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to this office, are given opposite the title of the office and under the appropriate party or other designation, each in its proper column, and the questions submitted to a vote are stated below:

Information to Voters.

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters: A voter, upon entering the polling place, and giving his name and residence, will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk, which must have indorsed thereon the names or initals of both ballot clerks, and no other can be used. Upon receiving his ballot, the voter must retire, alone, to a booth or compartment and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for.

The voter should make a cross mark, X, after the name of each candidate he desires to vote for. If he wishes to vote for a person for a certain office, whose name is not on the ballot, he must write the name in the blank space under the printed name of the candidate for the office. The ballot should not be marked in an other manner. If the ballot be spoiled, it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all to any one voter. Five minutes time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Unofficial ballots or memorandum to aid the voter in marking his ballot, can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter. After it is marked, it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed indorsements and signatures of the ballot clerks on outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot to be placed in the box, and pass out of the voting place. A voter who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to read, or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, can have assistance of one or two election officers in marking the same, to be chosen by the voter. The presiding officer may administer an oath, in his discretion, as to such person's disability. The party designations and candidates for the different offices are as follows:

W. J. McINTYRE, County Clerk.

No evils are so pernicious as the adulteration of food or drink, hence one cannot be too careful about what goes into the stomach. True, the stomach is accustomed to a large amount of ill-treatment. It is an organ of great accommodation and wonderful endurance but as the day ends and night is sure to succeed it so to is it with the stomach's capacity for enduring ill-usage. Persons who use whiskey in any form should remember these facts and avoid the adulterated stomach destroying compounds which are offered them by dealers who represent such as so many-years-old straight whiskies. Under the laws of Congress passed at its last session, the purchaser of a drink or bottle of whiskey has only himself to blame if deception is practiced on him now, as the T. S stamp covers every bottle of straight whiskey. Green River is that whiskey. It is bottled under the direct supervision of the government, the official stamp of the nation covers every bottle of it, thus guaranteeing its genuineness, age, proof and purity. But be sure you get Green River Whiskey, the whiskey without a headache.

J. W. McCulloch, Distiller, Owensboro, Ky. Sold by first class Liquor dealers, and leading druggists, or go or send for Green River Whiskey to N. B. Robinson & Co., the old reliable wholesale liquor dealers and brewers of ale and porter, Janesville, Distributing Agents for this section.

SORES

SEPTICIDE

"While in the army with the 54th Ind. Vols. sores came on my leg from the knee down, and much of the time since that I have been able to walk only with crutches. I have tried almost every remedy which friends suggested, but never struck the right remedy until about three weeks ago, when by the advice of our druggists, Goddard & Watson, I commenced the use of "SEPTICIDE." I took it internally and kept the sores wet with it four or five times a day. I am now happy to say, that I am entirely cured, and my leg is as sound as ever.

THOMAS MOLER,
Chippewa Falls, Wis."

We are acquainted with Mr. Moler, and know that 'SEPTICIDE" cured him. GODDARD & WATSON, Druggists.
